Part V, Line 4 - Intended Uses Of Endowment Fund

The Harrison House Maintenance Endowment was established to provide for the maintenance expenses of the Harrison House at White Sulphur Springs Conference Center. Since the donors intended that the funds contributed would be permanently maintained and that only the earnings and gains of the endowment be used for the annual maintenance, the OCF Council has determined that the amount contributed would be classified as permanently restricted funds while the earnings on any investments associated with the Harrison House Maintenance Endowment would be classisfied as temporarily restricted funds.

In addition, the Scholarship Endowment was established to provide for scholarships for junior officer and enlisted families, cadets and midshipmen to attend week-long or week-end conferences at either one of the two conference centers. Since the donors intended that the funds that were contributed would be permanently maintained and that only the earnings and gains of the endowment be used for scholarships, the OCF Council has determined that the amount contributed would be classified as permanently restricted funds while the earnings on any investments associated with the scholarship endowment would be classified as temporarily restricted funds.

The investment committee was delegated the authority by the Council to administer both of these endowments. In accordance with modern portfolio theory, the investment committee has invested the endowments in a variety of equity, bond, and cash instruments with the help of a retained investment advisor. The investment committee emphasizes the preservation of capital. However, they feel that by investing in a variety of equity, bond, and cash instruments, it should be possible to maintain, on average, an investment return of 7% to 8% annually with a spending plan of 4% per year which was established in 2012. The endowment should provide adequate funds for the stated purpose of both endowments while allowing the principal amount of the endowments to keep up with inflation.

ANNUITIES: The ministry maintains two charitable remainder trusts where annual payments of $6,000 in one case and $600.36 in the other case are made. These payments will be made throughout the lifetime of the recipients. The recipients are given an IRS FORM 1099-R showing the taxable portion of their annual payment. In addition, the ministry bought two annuities based on the life expectancies of the recipients in order to make sure the ministry has the cash available to make the annual payments.

Part X - FIN 48 Footnote

The Fellowship is exempt from income tax under Sections 501(c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code. The Fellowship did not have any material unrelated business income tax liability for the years 2013 and 2012. The Fellowship's tax filings are subject to audit by various taxing authorities. The Fellowship's ending open audit periods are December 31, 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013. The Fellowship believes it does not have significant uncertain tax provisions for the periods ended December 31, 2013 and 2012.

COMMUNICATIONS: The communications department employs all communications media available that will enable leaders and members of OCF to accomplish the OCF purpose and objectives. It informs members and others about OCF people and activities, and instructs them in Biblical truths and applications concerning life and ministry in the U.S. Armed Forces. This is achieved through the publications and distribution of four issues of Command Magazine to our members worldwide. The communications department also publishes and makes available books and pamphlets such as "Thriving Not Just Surviving," "Equipped to Lead," and other publications that target the unique challenges faced by military members and their families. This department maintains the OCF website and communicates through social networking tools such as "Facebook" "Twitter" and an e-newsletter titled "OCF News Wire." Additionally, the Director of Communications serves as the public affairs officer and coordinates interviews with the media for the Executive Director and other OCF field staff. Advertising conferences, retreats and summer programs help inform members and friends of the activities and programs provided by OCF.

EDUCATION CENTERS: OCF has four staff couples located at key military installations with large concentrations of officers undergoing professional military education and training such as: Quantico (Virginia); Maxwell Air Force Base (Alabama); Ft. Leavenworth (Kansas); and Pensacola Naval Air Station (Florida). They equip and encourage current and new members and their spouses by counseling, supporting and teaching them how to organize local fellowship groups and minister throughout the military society. They also mentor members in integrating the Christian faith with professionalism in their relationship with God and others.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11b - Form 990 Review Process

Organization's process is to review the Form 990 by emailing an electronic copy to all the members of the entire Council for their review. Any questions or comments were resolved before the Form 990 was filed. The members of the Council verified their approval of the final version of the Form 990 by email.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 12c - Explanation of Monitoring and Enforcement of Conflicts

Every Council member and field staff employee must disclose their business and family relationships before assuming their position. These are double-checked to ensure that there would be no undisclosed conflict in carrying out their duties. Also, this information is updated yearly by each currently serving Council member and field staff employee. In addition, the finance department periodically monitors the businesses that the ministry does business with to see if there is any indication that a Council member or a field staff employee is listed as a principle with that business.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 15a - Compensation Review & Approval Process - CEO, Top Management

The compensation of the employees of the ministry is reviewed in detail by the finance committee as part of the annual budget process. In addition, the salaries of the Executive Director, the Director of Operations, the Director of Finance, and the Director of Resource Development are reviewed by the entire Council and are compared with the salaries of comparable positions for other not-for-profit organizations in the Western United States. The salary data for comparable positions are found in the 2011 compensation survey report for Christian organizations. This was last done by the Council in their consideration and approval of the ministry's 2013 budget.
